A Service-driven Company

CER Group Services is an Australian-owned residential, industrial, and commercial building services company. We have the right combination of technology and human resource to deliver trade services of superior quality and value Australia-wide and beyond.

Established in 2004, CER Group Services has developed progressively throughout the years. Initially offering electrical and plumbing work, we have branched out into heating, ventilation, air conditioning, and refrigeration (HVACR), and energy efficiency. Since then we have expanded our customer base to include various patrons across sectors including government, NGO, industrial, corporate, and education.

We owe our growth to the outstanding workmanship and prompt service of our people. Our licensed tradesmen have years of solid experience in their respective crafts.
